

The Study „Generation Y and the Workplace“ states:

„ A very large majority of the Generation Y (73%) favor informal breakout spaces and ad hoc meeting spaces over formal meeting rooms to collaborate.“*

Prof. Dr. Eckard Minx, Futurologist and Partner at „Die Denkbank“:

“Despite all faith in technology, the immediate interconnection of people will remain the greatest innovation factor. Connecting people with expertise from different disciplines multiplies knowledge and ideas and transforms them into enhanced value.”

„In fact, space management may well be the most ignored – and most powerful – tool for inducing culture change, speeding up innovation projects, and enhancing the learning process in far-flung organizations.“

Tom Peters, Author of the book “Liberation Management“
